Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Applicant(s) claimed invention is directed to a process of using at least one member selected from a first group consisting of compounds conforming to formula (I):

$$HO \longrightarrow \mathbb{R}^{1} \qquad (1)$$

wherein R, Z, X, Y and n are disclosed therein.

The crux of the invention lies in the discovery that the use of phenol having substituents in the ortho and/or meta position and no substituent or methyl in the para position as a chain terminator and that preferably the ortho and/or meta positions contain cycloalkyl substituents. These chain terminator is produced from them have a surprisingly positive influence on the zero shear-rate viscosity in the polycarbonate, polyestercarbonate, or a polyester while avoiding the problems commonly associated therewith. Such has neither been anticipated by nor made obvious from the prior art. The art of record demonstrates other terminal phenol mioeties produced in the art which do not, however, contain the advantages as mentioned and neither avoid the problems commonly associated therewith.
